

Paper Pavilion

Location: Fictional Riverside Park, Wellington · Year: 2024

Overview

A small public pavilion of layered timber screens beside a fictional river path. The roof folds like a sheet of paper, and the walls open to the water on one side and the trees on the other. Seating sits under the fold so people can wait out a shower without blocking the path.

Placeholder project for testing. All content is fictional.

Gallery

All photos: Jane Doe

Awards

- Lightweight Structure Award (Fake), 2025
- Civic Shelter Prize (Fake), 2024